I own several businesses in Canada.

I had an issue with a supplier from Poland who did not deliver on his promise to send the products I ordered and payed for.

After quite a few unsuccessful efforts to get my money back I decided to look for a lawyer in Poland.

I found Igor's advertising for legal services on Google.

Firstly his English skills are excellent which was very helpful.

I contacted him with an email and by phone. He responded quickly asking me for all the necessary information about my case.

He presented me with all the possible outcomes and gave me the cost for his services which were quite reasonable for the North American standards.

We started with the execution of our planned approach immediately. Through out the following period he kept me updated regularly.

Our actions resulted in getting my money back.

He also helped me by assisting me in starting cooperation with a new supplier in Poland.

He was always professional and polite.

All in all I sincerely recommend Igor's services.
